

Send in the army!

Soldiers are trained to fight wars and to keep the peace. They are also trained to help in emergencies. They do this in their own countries and in countries around the world.

Soldiers are trained to:

- look for people trapped in earthquakes
- search for people lost in the jungle
- search for people lost in the desert
- rescue people trapped in floods
- get food to people in a famine.