Philip's and the Royal Geographical Society

This Philip's atlas displays the logo of the Royal Geographical Society (with the Institute of British Geographers). The Royal Geographical Society supports education, teaching, research and expeditions. The role of 'promoting public understanding of geography' now reaches 5 to 7 year olds through this new atlas.

Philip's has been publishing good maps for over 150 years.

Find out more about the Royal Geographical Society! Visit their website at www.rgs.org – David Wright is a Fellow and a Chartered Geographer of the RGS.
